Washington, July 31.—Events crowded upon each other to-day in the progress toward completion of the Glass currency bill in the House Committee on Banking and Currency. Chairman Glass, following out his agreement yesterday with Secretary McAdoo, obtained the adoption of an amendment in the Democratic conference for the creation of an "advisory board" of twelve bankers whose privilege it shall be to confer at regular intervals with the Federal Reserve Board that would be created under the new currency plan.

Washington, July 31.—Senator Tillman, in a public statement to-night declared that unless Congress provides some relief within sixty days, Southern countries would "be robbed of a hundred million dollars or more" on account of the inability of the Southern bankers to get money from New York "pirates." He urged that some kind of a resolution be put through immediately to afford temporary relief, and that the House Banking and Currency Committee "stop squabbling" and allow permanent currency legislation to be enacted.

Atlanta, Ga., July 31.—Although the fourth day of the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, fourteen-year-old (actory girl, was not productive of anything sensational, the State was able to present some evidence hitherto unrevealed. Testimony by R. P. Barrett, a machinist, that he had found blood spots on the floor of the room where the State contends Mary Phagan was murdered, and that he also discovered strands of hair upon a lathe and a broom, with which an attempt had apparently been made to cover the blood spots, was distinctly the feature of today's session. Another witness, Mrs. G. W. Jefferson, testified that she was with Barrett when he found they blood spots on the floor. Barrett testified on direct examination that he had found a portion of Mary Phagan's parenvelope while closing the machine she had used about a week after the murder. He admitted on cross-examination that there was nothing on the envelope to indicate that it had been longed to the murdered girl.
